

Stanford

Marc Berenson

Clinical Instructor, Emergency Medicine

CLINICAL OFFICE (PRIMARY)

- Stanford Emergency Department

500 Pasteur Dr

Palo Alto, CA 94304

Tel (650) 723-6576

Fax (650) 723-0121

Bio

BIO

Dr. Berenson was born in the heart of New York City and grew up in the NYC metropolitan area with the notable exception of a three-year stint living in the UK. He has also lived in Washington DC and Roanoke VA. Prior to medical school, Dr. Berenson worked as a Mobile Intensive Care Paramedic for well over a decade, spending a significant portion of his time creating and providing EMS-related education. After completing his Bachelor of Arts in Sociology, he went on to attend Rutgers New Jersey Medical School, graduating with a Distinction in Medical Education. He remained at Rutgers NJMS for residency training, serving as Chief Resident in his final year. In his free time, Dr. Berenson enjoys a spontaneous/random adventure, playing piano, and spending quality time with friends and family.

CLINICAL FOCUS

- Emergency Medicine

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Clinical Instructor, Emergency Medicine

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- Residency: Rutgers New Jersey Medical School Emergency Medicine Program (2023) NJ
- Medical Education: Rutgers New Jersey Medical School Office of the Registrar (2019) NJ

Publications

PUBLICATIONS

- The Case of Sean Smith: A Three-Part Interactive Module on Transgender Health for Second-Year Medical Students. MedEdPORTAL : the journal of teaching and learning resources
Berenson, M. G., Gavzy, S. J., Cespedes, L., Gabrani, A., Davis, M., Ingram, K., Gailey, D., Sánchez, J. P.
2020; 16: 10915
- The Case of Ty Jackson: An Interactive Module on LGBT Health Employing Introspective Techniques and Video-Based Case Discussion. MedEdPORTAL : the journal of teaching and learning resources
Gavzy, S. J., Berenson, M. G., Decker, J., Domogauer, J., Alexander, A., Pulaski, M., Soto-Greene, M., Sánchez, N., Sánchez, J. P.
2019; 15: 10828