BIO

Dr. Ramayya is an assistant professor in the Department of Neurosurgery. He specializes in the treatment of patients with chronic pain, movement disorders, epilepsy, and traumatic brain injury. His research program will focus on understanding brain mechanisms underlying pain experience and how to alleviate pain using brain stimulation.

Dr. Ramayya specializes in neuromodulation, including deep brain stimulation (DBS), spinal cord stimulation, MRI-guided laser therapy, and focused ultrasound. Dr. Ramayya obtained his MD and PhD from the University of Pennsylvania, where he also completed his neurosurgery residency and a fellowship in stereotactic and functional neurosurgery.

His research efforts have identified neural substrates underlying learning, memory, and decision-making using computational behavioral modeling, neurophysiology, and neuroimaging.

Dr. Ramayya has published in numerous peer-reviewed journals, including the Journal of Neuroscience, NeuroImage, and Cerebral Cortex. He has also presented his work at national and international meetings, including those for the American Association of Neurological Surgeons and the Pan Philadelphia Neurosurgery Conference.

CLINICAL FOCUS

- Neurological Surgery

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Assistant Professor - University Medical Line, Neurosurgery
- Member, Bio-X

HONORS AND AWARDS

- Neurosurgery Resident Research Presentation Award, Pan Philadelphia
- Dorothea Jameson and Leo M. Hurvich Travel Award, Perelman School of Medicine
- Medical Scientist Training Program Scholarship, National Institutes of Health

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION

- Fellowship: Pennsylvania Hospital PA
- Residency: Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania (2023) PA
- Medical Education: Perelman School of Medicine University of Pennsylvania (2016) PA
