Morgan Weaving
Postdoctoral Scholar, Business

Bio

Morgan is a postdoctoral researcher, working with Dr. Michele Gelfand on research relating to culture, norms, diversity, and stigma at the Stanford Graduate School of Business.

Morgan obtained her PhD in social psychology at the University of Melbourne, where she explored the behaviours and psychological processes that reinforce hierarchical gender relations. More broadly, Morgan is interested in how social norms are transmitted over time, vary across cultures, and affect social inequalities.

STANFORD ADVISORS

• Michele Gelfand, Postdoctoral Faculty Sponsor

LINKS

• Twitter: https://x.com/WeavingMorgan
• ORCID: https://orcid.org/0000-0002-8519-868X