

Stanford

---

Juan N. Pava

Research - Post-Bacc, Ethics In Society

Bio

---

BIO

Juan N. Pava is a Research Fellow in the Tech Ethics and Policy Rising Scholars Program at the McCoy Family Center for Ethics in Society. He is actively engaged with Stanford HAI's emerging work on the intersection of new technology, the social sector, and the global south. Juan is interested in the political economy of emerging countries and its intersection with political philosophy and ethics. He has a bachelor's degree from New York University, where he pursued a double major in Philosophy and Economics. He was born and raised in Colombia.