

Stanford

Francis Engelmann

Postdoctoral Scholar, Computer Science

Bio

BIO

Francis Engelmann is a PostDoc at Stanford university with Prof. Leonidas Guibas and Prof. Jeannette Bohg. Before that, he was a postdoctoral researcher at ETH Zurich collaborating with Prof. Marc Pollefeys and a visiting researcher at Google Zurich working with Federico Tombari. His current research focuses on computer vision and deep learning, particularly in the realm of 3D scene understanding. Prior to joining ETH Zurich, he obtained his Ph.D. from RWTH Aachen University under the guidance of Prof. Bastian Leibe, and interned at Google X in Munich, Google Research in Zurich, and Apple in California. Francis is a Fellow of the ETH AI Center, a member of the ELLIS Society, and a recipient of ETHZ Career Seed Award and SNSF Postdoc.Mobility fellowship.

BOARDS, ADVISORY COMMITTEES, PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

- Member, ELLIS Society (2021 - present)

STANFORD ADVISORS

- Leonidas Guibas, Postdoctoral Faculty Sponsor
- Jeannette Bohg, Postdoctoral Research Mentor

LINKS

- Website: <http://francisengelmann.github.io>