

Stanford

Angela Flores

Editorial Coordinator, Special Collections

Bio

BIO

Angela Flores is a trans writer and editor. She serves as the editorial coordinator for the Stanford University Library's special collections. Previously, she was the assistant editor for Poetry magazine at the Poetry Foundation and served on the editorial board of the Philip Levine Prize in Poetry. Her writing has been published by Ploughshares, The Normal School, and the Academy of American Poets, among others. She lives in Palo Alto.