Stanford

Jaime Rebollar

Undergraduate, Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education

Bio

BIO

I'm an aspiring mechanical engineer with a strong interest in using design and innovation to solve real-world problems. My goal is to make STEM education more accessible in underserved communities by mentoring youth, leading outreach efforts, and creating opportunities. I hope to combine engineering, education, and entrepreneurship to build a more inclusive and impactful future.