Research & Scholarship

CURRENT RESEARCH AND SCHOLARLY INTERESTS

Clinical Investigations of Hodgkin's Disease: Current trials are defining (1) the utility of an abbreviated chemotherapy and minimal radiotherapy for favorable, clinically-staged patients with the disease; (2) the development of new dose-intensive chemotherapy programs for unfavorable and advanced disease. In collaboration with radiotherapists and Dr. Sandra Horning, careful retrospective and prospective studies of fertility, cardiopulmonary and secondary neoplasms are being done.

Clinico-laboratory Studies in the Non-Hodgkin's Lymphomas: A major research interest of Dr. Rosenberg is the clinical, pathological and molecular basis of diagnosis, evolution, treatment and understanding of the non-Hodgkin's lymphomas. This research is performed by a large interdisciplinary group of investigators which Dr. Ronald Levy directs.
