

Galina Malukhina

Director of Finance, Medicine

Bio

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

I joined Stanford University in 2004 and have held various roles on campus in the School of Humanities & Sciences and the School of Medicine. My background is in financial management, infrastructure, faculty compensation, and process improvement, with a keen focus on client service. I tremendously value and support partnerships and continuously explore ways of enhancing collaboration and transparency. I also have a deep appreciation for healthcare, research, and teaching, and I enjoy working alongside faculty and staff in an academic environment.
