

John Turneaure

Professor (Research) of Physics, Emeritus

Bio

BIO

John received his PhD in physics from Stanford University. He later became a research associate in W.W. Hansen Experimental Physics Laboratory. Following, he acted as an assistant professor of physics, senior research associate, and professor. Research interests include experimental and observational astrophysics and cosmology.

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

- Emeritus Faculty, Acad Council, Physics