I've been at Stanford since 1994. I manage the Physics Stockroom & Copy Center. My other duties for the department include website maintenance, IT support, health & safety, space inventory, student services, purchasing, shipping & receiving, event registration management, photography, and design.

The Physics Stockroom (also known as the Physics Store) is a self-serve hardware and lab-supply store. We serve research groups in various science and engineering departments at Stanford. Our hours are 9:00 am to 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday. (After-hours access is also available.) We're in the Varian Physics Building Room 115, near the loading dock.
