

Stanford

Persephone Crittenden

Temp - Non-Exempt, Psych/Major Laboratories and Clinical & Translational Neurosciences Incubator

Bio

BIO

Dr. Crittenden is a licensed psychologist specializing in neuropsychological assessment of adults. Her training and experience include providing neuropsychological services to individuals with neurodegenerative diseases, traumatic brain injury, cerebrovascular disease, ADHD, ASD, LD, and other medical and psychiatric conditions impacting cognition, as well as helping individuals better understand and optimize brain health and cognitive aging.

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

University Staff - Brain Stimulation Lab

Psych/Major Laboratories and Clinical & Translational Neurosciences Incubator

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS

- Postdoctoral Fellowship, Harvard Medical School/Cambridge Health Alliance , Clinical Neuropsychology
- Clinical Internship, Harvard Medical School/Cambridge Health Alliance , Neuropsychology & Primary Care Behavioral Health Integration
- Doctor of Psychology, PGSP-Stanford Psy.D. Consortium , Clinical Psychology/Neuropsychology
- Master of Arts, University of San Francisco , Counseling Psychology