

Stanford

Christine Lee

Undergraduate Advising Director, Academic Advising Operations

Bio

BIO

Christine Lee is an Undergraduate Advising Director in the office of Academic Advising at Stanford University. As an advisor for undergraduates, her conversations with students include academic planning, exploring interests, choosing majors, overcoming academic challenges, connecting with faculty, finding opportunities for research and service, applying for grants and fellowships, navigating university requirements and policies, and other aspects of students' academic endeavors. Prior to arriving at Stanford in 2015, Christine worked at Harvard University, where she taught as a lecturer in the Comparative Literature department and volunteered on the Board of Freshman Advisors.

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

Undergraduate Advising Director

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS

- Ph.D., Harvard University , Comparative Literature (2011)
- A.M., Harvard University , Comparative Literature (2005)
- A.B., Brown University , Comparative Literature (2002)