

Stanford

Brianna Booth

Student Svcs Offcr 3, Education and Prevention

Bio

BIO

Compelled by a deep belief that we as a society can do better on the challenges of sexuality, Brianna aims to transform the cultural conversation to more fundamentally level-up on both the challenges and possibilities of sexuality. She earned her PhD in Human Sexuality Studies and a Masters in Applied Positive Psychology, focusing her research on the lived experience of sexuality and the skills of navigating it well. Building on these frameworks, Brianna is working with students to create a series of programs for undergraduates--Beyond Sex Ed--which take a whole-person, whole-culture approach, centering on student storytelling, the skills for growth and connection, and a recognition of sexuality as an integral part of what it is to be human.

CURRENT ROLE AT STANFORD

Director of Positive Sexuality, Design & Development

EDUCATION AND CERTIFICATIONS

- PhD, Widener University , Human Sexuality Studies
- MA, University of Pennsylvania , Applied Positive Psychology
- MEd, Widener University , Human Sexuality Education
- BA, Whitman College , Psychology