RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Interdisciplinary research in the clinical use of Non-invasive Brain Stimulation (NIBS) modalities
- Clinical and physiological predictors of NIBS treatment response to further explore mechanism of action and biomarkers of response
- Combined NIBS and evidence-based neuromodulatory interventions (e.g. mindfulness meditation, cognitive behavioral therapy and biofeedback)
- Further developing skills in neuroimaging and neurophysiological measures to explore associations among and between clinical outcomes of NIBS, across populations of interest
- Clinical interests: unipolar and bipolar depression, Parkinson's Disease, Huntington's Disease, traumatic brain injury (TBI), multiple sclerosis, fibromyalgia, and other pain related disorders
