The first course of mental health in the Stanford Law School, The course is designed to educate law students on the diagnosis and treatment of psychiatric disorders and how they mediate and affect behavior. Stanford University, School of Law. 2011 – Present

12. Chair and Co-Founder, Heart Transplant Patient Advisory Council. 2011 – Present.
13. Developer & Course Director: Delirium: Basic Principles for Health Care Professionals. The first course of basic delirium epidemiology, diagnosis and management – offered at the American Delirium Society (ADS) Annual Meeting. 2011 – Present.
14. Developer & Medical Director, Stanford Hospital & Clinics – Emergency Psychiatry Response Team, Stanford Department of Emergency Medicine. 2016 – 2018.
15. Chair Emeritus & Board Member, Heart Transplant Patient Advisory Council. 2020.
16. Developer & Medical Director, Stanford Hospital & Clinics – Critical Care Psychiatry Service, Critical Care Medicine Program, Stanford Hospital & Clinics. 2020 – Present.
17. Team Leader – CNS Pharmacotherapy (Agitation/Delirium/Sedation) Protocol – CVICU, Critical Care Medicine Program, Stanford Hospital & Clinics. 2021 – Present.
18. Developer & Medical Director, Stanford Hospital & Clinics – Critical Care Psychiatry Service, Stanford Critical Care Medicine Program. 2018 – Present. This is the first Critical Care Psychiatry Service in the Nation and the model for a new specialty in the field of Psychiatry and Critical Care Medicine.

Developed Tools and Clinical Instruments (13)

1. Stanford Integrated Psychosocial Assessment for Transplantation (SIPAT) – developed to assess the psychosocial candidacy of organ transplant and ventricular assisted devices (VADs). Studies have demonstrated that demonstrated that higher SIPAT scores are significantly correlated with the probability of poor medical ($p < 0.001$) and psychosocial ($p = 0.002$) outcomes. The tool has excellent inter-rater reliability ($p < 0.001$). The tool is presently used in over 350 transplant centers around the world. It was already adapted and translated into Spanish, Dutch, Italian, Thai, Japanese and Chinese. In addition, its been translated into 10 additional languages. Original version published in 2012, Stanford University.
2. Prediction of Alcohol Withdrawal Severity Scale (PAWSS) – Developed to identify medically-ill patients at risk of severe AWS, so appropriate prophylaxis and timely treatment could be implemented before the development of clinical complications. Studies have demonstrated the tool has a sensitivity of 93.5%, specificity of 99.5%, positive predictive value of 93.5%, and negative predictive value of 99.5%. I received the 2014 DLIN/Fischer Award for excellence in clinical research from the Academy of Psychosomatic Medicine for my work on PAWSS. 2013, Stanford University. The tool is widely used nationally and around the world, with official translations into Spanish, Chinese,

3. Stanford Proxy Test for Delirium (S-PTD) – The first and only Delirium diagnostic tool based on DSM-5 and ICD-10 criteria, developed to allow for the timely and accurate diagnosis of delirium, in order to provide early and timely management of this condition. The tool has a 82.7% sensitivity, 95.3% specificity, 86.1% positive predictive value, 94.0% negative predictive value, and 92.0% overall diagnostic accuracy in medically-ill patients; in both the ICU and general medicine wards. 2014, Stanford University.
4. Stanford's Algorithm for Predicting Delirium (SAPD) – developed to help predict those patients at risk for developing delirium; which should provide for the implementation of prophylactic management techniques and monitoring of patients at risk. Validation studies are under way. 2015, Stanford University.
5. Stanford Integrated Psychosocial Assessment for Transplantation – for the Evaluation of Candidates for Mechanical Circulatory Devices (SIPAT-MCD) – developed to assess the psychosocial fitness of candidates to receive a mechanical circulatory device. Developed in 2018. Validation studies are under way. 2018, Stanford University.
6. Quick Stanford Proxy Test for Delirium (qS-PTD) – Based on the Stanford Proxy Test for Delirium (S-PTD), a delirium screening tool based on combined DSM-5 and ICD-10 criteria, developed to increase the predictive power of the original tool based on stepwise regression analysis of data from two separate studies, including both ICU and non-ICU patients. The qS-PTD has a sensitivity of 84% and a specificity of 90%; in both the ICU and general medicine wards. 2019, Stanford University.
7. Stanford Integrated Psychosocial Assessment for Transplantation – for the Evaluation of Living Donor Candidates (SIPAT-D) – developed to assess the psychosocial fitness of living organ transplant donor candidates. 2020, Stanford University.
8. Spanish Version (Translation & Validation) of the Stanford Integrated Psychosocial Assessment for Transplantation (SIPAT). 2019, López-Lazcano, A.I., López-Pelayo, H., Lligoña, A., Sánchez, N., Vilas-Riotorto, V., Priego, A., Sánchez-González, R., Rodríguez-Urrutia, A., Quesada-Franco, M., Maldonado, J.R., Pintor, L.

9. Italian Version (Translation & Validation) of the Stanford Integrated Psychosocial Assessment for Transplantation (SIPAT). 2020. Bottesi, G., Granzio, U., Forza, G., Volpe, B., Feltrin, A., Battermann, F., Cavalli, C., Cillo, U., Gerosa, G., Fraiese, A., Rea, F., Loy, M., Maiorano, D., Rizzi, I., Leandro, G., Ferraro, C., Biasi, C., Donato, D., Vidotto, G., Maldonado, J.R.
10. Thai Version (Translation & Validation) of the Stanford Integrated Psychosocial Assessment for Transplantation (SIPAT). 2021. Thisayakorn, P., Sakunwetsaa, D., Tangwongchaia, S., Jirakranb, K., Lolack, S., Maldonado, J.R.
11. Japanese Version (Translation & Validation) of the Stanford Integrated Psychosocial Assessment for Transplantation (SIPAT). 2021, Satoko, I., Oshibuchi, H., Tsutsui, J., Kobayashi, S., Takano, K., Sugawara, H., Kamba, R., Akaho, R., Ishida, H., Maldonado, J.R., Nishimura, K.
12. Chula COVID-19 Psychosocial Home Isolation Evaluation Tool (CCPHIET). 2022. Thisayakorn, P., Thipakorn, Y., Prasartpornsirichoke, J., Suraphaphairoj, C., Suwanpimolkul, G., Taechawiwat, T., Sirinimnuamkul, N., Maldonado, J.R. DOI: 10.7759/cureus.25224. The CCPHIET is an easy-to-use tool for assessing the psychosocial suitability of patients advised for at-home isolation with mild and asymptomatic COVID-19. Its implementation can assist clinicians in identifying and redirecting resources to patients at the highest risk for breaking quarantine and save on unnecessary, costly absolute institutional quarantine for those deemed to be psychosocially fit for full adherence. 2022.
13. Spanish Version (Translation & Validation) of the Stanford Proxy Test for Delirium (SPTD). 2022. Infante, D., Behn., González., M., Pintor, L., Canales, L., Maldonado, J.

Courses Taught within Stanford University:

Legend: d = Denotes Course Director.

1. Psychiatry 204 Introduction to Clinical Psychiatry: Somatoform & Dissociative Disorders. Stanford University School of Medicine. Yearly from 1998 to present.
2. Psychiatry 231 Hypnosis: Basic Principles & Applications. Stanford University School of Medicine. Yearly from 1998 to present. d
3. Hypnotherapeutic Techniques: Applications of Hypnosis in Psychotherapy. Psychiatry Residency Program, Department of Psychiatry, Stanford University. Yearly from 1998 to present. d
4. Psychiatry in Internal Medicine. Internal Medicine Programs at Stanford University Medical Center and the Palo Alto Veteran Administration Hospital. Yearly from 1998 to present. d
5. Psychiatry in Primary Care. Primary Care Program at Stanford University Medical Center. Topics include: Mood Disorders, Anxiety Disorders, and Somatoform Disorders in Primary Care. Yearly from 1999 to present. d
6. Preparation for Clinical Medicine Course: Clinical Reasoning. Stanford University

School of Medicine. Yearly from 1999 to Present.

7. Delirium & Other Acute Confusional States: Diagnosis & Treatment. Nursing Training Seminar, Stanford University Hospital Department of Nursing. Yearly from 2000 to Present.
8. Ethics Core Curriculum Course: General Surgery Residency Program, Department of Surgery, Stanford University Medical Center. 2003 – 2010. d
9. Introduction to Forensic Psychiatry. PGY-I psychiatric residents, Stanford University, Department of Psychiatry. 2006 – present. d
10. Bioethics: Ethics in the Practice of Medicine and Psychiatry. Psychiatry Residency Program, Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, Stanford University. 2003, 2004, 2005. d
11. Advanced Course in Forensic Psychiatry. Application of forensic psychiatry for PGY-II psychiatry residents, Stanford University, Department of Psychiatry. 2006 – present. d
12. Emergency Psychiatry. PGY-I psychiatry residents, Stanford University, Department of Psychiatry. 2010 – present. d
13. Mental Health and the Law. School of Law, Stanford University, 2011 – Present. d
14. Medical Hypnosis a Primer for Medical Professionals. Stanford University School of Medicine. 2015 – present. d

Mentoring at Stanford:

Psychiatry Residency & Research Program Advisor, Stanford School of Medicine:

- Michael A. Ghaly; 2001 – 2002, Project Title: “Motoric side effect profile of intravenous vs. oral Haloperidol”
- John Nguyen, MS; 2004 – 2006, Project Title: “Benzodiazepine Loading versus Symptom Triggered Treatment of Alcohol Withdrawal: A Prospective, Randomized Clinical Trial”
- E. Merritt Schader; 2005 – 2006, Project Title: “Benzodiazepine Loading versus Symptom Triggered Treatment of Alcohol Withdrawal: A Prospective, Randomized Clinical Trial”
- Emma Bakes, MS; 2006 – 2007: Delirium Pathophysiology
- Kelsey Hills-Evans; 2012 – 2014, Project Title: “Evaluating Psychometric Characteristics of a New Scale, the Prediction of Alcohol Withdrawal Severity Scale (PAWSS), in the Development of Moderate to Severe Alcohol Withdrawal Syndrome in Hospitalized Medical Inpatients”

- Rachael Talley: 2013 – 2014, Project Title: “Proxy Test for Delirium: A Pilot Study of a New Diagnostic Tool for Detection of Delirium”
- Amalia Londono-Tobon: 2013 – 2014, Project Title: “The “Stanford Integrated Psychosocial Assessment for Transplantation” (SIPAT): A Two Year Analysis of Medical & Psychosocial Outcomes”
- Vidushi Savant, MD: 2013 – 2014: Project Title: “Development and Reliability of the Stanford Proxy Test for Delirium (SPTD): A new tool for the diagnosis of delirium in medically ill patients”
- Caroline Yu: 2015, Project Title: “Impact of Delirium in the Morbidity, Survival, and Functioning of Heart Transplant Recipients”
- Renee Garcia, MD: 2014 – 2015, Project Title: “Improving Intensive Care Nursing Knowledge base and Recognition of Delirium through Directed Educational Sessions”
- Mark Freeman, MD, PhD: 2015, Project Title: “Melatonin for Prevention of Post-operative Delirium”
- Andrea Ament, MD: 2015, Project Title: “Adjunctive Valproic Acid in Management-Refractory Hyperactive Delirium”
- Mario A. Benitez, MD: 2017 – 2020: Served as his mentor during his masters program at the SOM. Supervised multiple projects, including the development of a novel tool for the assessment of delirium, the Stanford Proxy Test for Delirium (S-PTD), and the Quick-S-PTD (qS-PTD), a shortened, but slightly more accurate version.

Mentoring outside Stanford:

- Shixie "Max" Jiang, M.D.; 2019 – 2023. Resident in Psychiatry from University of South Florida; working on a project to demonstrate the clinical utility of the use of guanfacine for the management of hyperactive delirium in ICU patients.
- Jordan Rosen, MD (2020 – 2021) Served as his Webb Fellowship Mentor, at the request of the Academy of Consultation–Liaison Psychiatry.
- Gabriel Camara, MD (2021 – 2022) Served as his ACLP Early Career Consultant. Dr Camara is a dually trained (Medicine & Psychiatry) physician from Brazil, who is currently doing a CLP fellowship in Minnesota. My mandate was to assist his research and academic skills.
- Leon Felipe, MD (2021 – 2022) Served as his ACLP Early Career Consultant. Dr Felipe is a physician from Chile, trained in Psychiatry. My mandate was to assist his research and academic skills.

- Sanndy Infante, PhD (2022 – 2023) Served as supervisor in the development of the Spanish Version of the Stanford Proxy Test for Delirium (S-PTDsv). My function was to assist her in the translation-back translation process, development of a research protocol to test the accuracy of the tool, assisted in the interpretation of results, and supervised the writing of the manuscript reporting the study results.

Mentoring of Junior Faculty (both national & international mentees):

Mentoring of Junior Faculty:

- Leo Pozuelo, MD; 2009 – Present; Faculty at Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland OH.
- Fahad Alosaimi, MD; 2011 – Present; Faculty at College of Medicine, King Saud University and Chief of Psychosomatic Medicine at King Khalid University Hospital, Riyadh, Saudi Arabia
- Carlos Cardeño Castro, MD, MSc; 2010 – Present; faculty at Hospital Universitario de Medellin, Colombia, SA and Chief of Psychosomatic Medicine Hospital Universitario San Vicente Fundación, Antioquia, Colombia, SA
- Sermsak Lolak, MD; 2008 – Present, Faculty at George Washington University
- Niranjan Karnik, MD, 2004 – 2012, Faculty at the Department of Psychiatry, Rush University. Chicago, Il
- Tomer Levine MD; Faculty at Memorial Sloan Kettering. New York, NY.
- Yelizaveta Sher, MD; 2010 – Present, Faculty at the Department of Psychiatry, Stanford University.
- Renee Garcia, MD:2014 – Present, Faculty at the Department of Psychiatry, Stanford University.
- Alici Yesne MD; Faculty at Memorial Sloan Kettering. New York, NY.
- Edward Kilbane, MD; 2009 – 2013, Faculty at the Department of Psychiatry, Stanford University.
- Mytilee Vemuri MD; Faculty at the Department of Psychiatry, Stanford University
- Amy Poon MD; currently faculty member in the Department of Psychiatry, Stanford University
- John Nguyen MD; 2011 – Present; currently director of Addiction Treatment

Services at PAVA

- Bill Wilkes MD, 2012 – Present; currently a Psychosomatic Medicine specialist at Kaiser Permanente, Redwood City, CA
- Mary Sage MD, 2010 – Present; currently a Psychosomatic Medicine specialist at Kaiser Permanente, Redwood City, CA
- Holly Dubois MD, 2012 – Present; currently a Neuropsychiatrist at Methodist Hospital, San Antonio, TX.
- Vidushi Savant MD, (7/1/2013 to present) former fellow, currently Adjunct Clinical Faculty, Stanford University.
- Scott Nichols MD, 2014 – Present; currently staff psycho-oncologist at Enloe Behavioral Health, Fresno, CA.
- Luis Pintor, MD, PhD. (2015 to Present) – Psiquiatra Consultor 1; Coordinador Unidad Psiquiatría de Enlace Hospitalaria; Hospital Clínico de Barcelona (Spain).
- Matias Gonzalez, MD (November 2018 to present) – Psychiatry department, Medicine School, Pontifical Catholic University of Chile & (4) Health Service of Reloncaví, Chile.
- Daniel Fishman, MD – (9/1/2020 to present) currently junior faculty in the Division of Medical Psychiatry, Stanford University.
- Danny Lamothe, MD (2/1/2022 to present) – currently junior faculty in the Division of Medical Psychiatry, Stanford University.
- Benjamin Hoover, MD (8/1/2022 to present) – currently junior faculty in the Division of Medical Psychiatry, Stanford University.
- Sanddy Infacnte, PhD; 2021 to present – (1) Psychiatry department, Medicine School, Pontifical Catholic University of Chile.
- Debbie Rovine MD, former resident, currently in private practice in the Stanford area and members of the adjunct faculty at Stanford University.
- Matthew May MD, former resident, currently in private practice in the Stanford area and members of the adjunct faculty at Stanford University.
- Magdolna Dunai MD, former resident, currently in private practice in the Stanford area and members of the adjunct faculty at Stanford University.
- Michael Quach MD, former resident, currently in private practice in the Stanford area and members of the adjunct faculty at Stanford University.
